

CONDAIR ACQUIRES AIREVEN

Having been Condair's exclusive distributor in Australia for the last 20 years, I am delighted to announce Aireven has been acquired by the Condair Group and has become Condair Pty Ltd.

Condair is the world's leading manufacturer of humidification and evaporative cooling systems, and Aireven has long been recognised as Australia's leading provider of humidification expertise.

This acquisition is an exciting development for the Australian HVAC industry and, as Condair Pty Ltd, we look forward to providing you with the very best humidification solutions direct from the world's leading humidifier manufacturer.

Yours sincerely

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Kevin Cronin".

Kevin Cronin
Managing Director
Condair Pty Ltd (formerly Aireven Pty Ltd)

Check out our new website at www.condair.com.au

Humidification and Evaporative Cooling

As Condair, we offer you
the same and more....

...the same local expertise

The technical knowledge and high quality service our customers have trusted for over 20 years.

...a comprehensive service

A complete service of humidifier advice, design, manufacture, supply, installation, maintenance, training and spares supply.

...and support from the world's leading humidifier manufacturer

As a member of the Condair Group, we now offer the world's widest range of humidification solutions, supported by the resources and security only a market leader can provide.

As Condair, we offer you more!

Condair sales office

Manufacturing & R/D centre

Distributor